2D mechanism: with a walking motor, a mechanism that can move along the track, and a kneading motor and a percussion motor, which can realize kneading, flapping, shaking, tapping, beating, acupressure, etc.-a series of complex movements, Coupled with the programmed massage program, a variety of massage combinations can be realized.

3D mechanism: In addition to the 2D mechanism, there are some basic mechanisms, and it also comes with a telescopic motor, which can realize the mechanism to expand and contract forward and cooperate with the kneading motor to realize the gripping action. The more advanced 3D mechanism also has a tactile feedback function. According to the appropriate 3D mechanism, it is not only as simple as whether it is available or not but also depends on its depth of penetration and adjustment of the width. These parameters indicate that the range of expansion and movement can be scaled, and the area of the body can also be covered. The technique is also more realistic.
